Parenting is hard, but Parenting Wisely can help.
Failing in school... Truancy... Delinquency... Drugs... Alcohol... Irresponsible... Disrespectful... What can a parent do?

The Parenting Wisely Program increases parent-child communications, confidence and disciplinary skills, strengthening the parent’s ability to help their child as they struggle through daily issues.

This program can help parents help their child improve their school performance, strengthen their family relationships, and get to the core of a young person’s challenges.

We hear you. We’re here for you.
To find out more about the Parenting Wisely program, go to cgfs.org/parenting or call 330-762-0591.